

Miracle Method reglazes tub to make it look like new

When Elizabeth McNinch moved into her condo, she knew there would be a few repairs she would need to make. She also realized that she didn't have a large budget to make major modifications. The bathtub was getting old and she couldn't seem to get it clean no matter how much she scrubbed. After getting an estimate of $2,500 to remove and replace it, McNinch tried another option.

She had heard about Miracle Method through Angie's List and visited the company's showroom.

"The tub was still structurally sound, and I thought reglazing would be less expensive," she said. "I was concerned because the tub was fiberglass, and I didn't think you could reglaze over that. But Miracle Method told me they had a special process that bonds to fiberglass, and they offered a 5-year warranty — higher than anyone else's warranty."

McNinch was so happy with the reglazing job that Miracle Method did she hired the company to resurface her laminate kitchen countertops. The company even matched the color to her appliances.

"I can't believe what a huge difference it makes," she said. "It really brightened up the kitchen. I didn't realize how dark the kitchen really was."

McNinch is happy with the overall quality of Miracle Method.

"They were always very professional, answered all my questions and the technician who did the work couldn't have been nicer."
